M'CARDELL'S BODY FOUND; CAUSE OF SUICIDE MYSTERY

The body of George C. McCardell, former Memphian, who leaped to his death from a Napoleon avenue ferryboat at New Orleans last Monday morning, has been recovered from the river and identified, according to telegraphic word received from New Orleans Saturday. The body was found last Friday by the crew of the Louisiana avenue ferryboat. L. H. Marrerom, of which Capt. Walter Sadler is pilot.

boat, L. H. Marrerom, of which Capt. Walter Sadler is pilot.

Identification of the body was made possible by a diamond stud in the drowned man's shirt front, some papers in his pockets and by his watch and chain. Only three pennies were found in McCardell's

Dr. Charles F. Glebke, coroner of Jefferson parish, and the body was turned over to Undertaker Donegan, at the request of relatives.

The spot wehere the body was recovered from the river is about one mile below the point where McCardell took his fatal leap from the upper deck of the ferry. The crew of the ferry which recovered the body, like hundreds of men all along the river front, had been keeping a sharp lookout for the body. It was sighted by one o fthe deck hands and Capt. Sadler notified. The ferry was stopped close by while a boat was lowered and members of the crew secured the body, rowing with it to shore. Sheriff Dauenhauer was notified immediately and hurried to the scene. He was followed by a coroner shertly afterward.

A reward of $500 had been offered for.

New Firemen Seek Union; Stern Cops Thwart Program

Police came dangerously near arresting Dan Cupid several days ago, it developed Saturday. In fact, police Saturday were sore at the little bow and fellow, It happened like this: Last week two young women, both 18, vere arrested by motor cops. They were taken to headquarters and charged were taken to headquarters and charged with vagrancy. Matron's quarters is directly above the courtyard in the rear of fire engine house No. 1.

Through the bars the girls formed an acquaintance with two firemen. Then along came Cupid. Members of the woman's protective bureau, of which Miss Clara Ahigren is the head, became "wised up" to the Romeos in overails and the imprisoned Juliets, and decided to take a hand. Stories of balcony scenes had crept out.

As a result the women were ordered out of town and, it is said, went to Kansas City.

The governor with his proclamation won out, but his appointees were denied holding office until the supreme court acts, and by that time other complica-tions will arise that will help stir the muddle.

jobs until the supreme court decides the case.

The action of the governor vacating the city offices was brought following the announcement by the census bureau at Washington that the recent enumeration shewed Oxford to have a population of less than 2,000, or about 70 less than that of 10 years ago. Upon this information he issued a proclamation declaring Oxford a town instead of a city. The census bureau has taken a second enumeration of Oxford, completing it a few days ago. There are more houses in Oxford now than there was in 1910 and every house is occupied. The general feeling here is that the results of the second enumeration when announced from Washington will show an increase in population since 1910 or an increase in population since 1910 or considerably more than 2,000, the re-duired population to be classed as a

They will be taken out to inspect the Cripple Children's hospital and will hear talks on care of patients and history of different cases. The Red Cross has been finding and caring for a large number of sucs cases, especially in Mississippi, and this visit is with the intention of acquainting the nurses with facilities for caring for this class of patients. Among speakers scheduled to address the meeting are: Frederick Monroe, Washington, D. C., President; H. L. Hopkins, New Orleans, general manager, Gulf division; V. D. McCall's Successor Will Be Named At Once, Senator Says

The name of the future judge of the United States district court for the Western district of Tennessee will be made public by Monday or Tuesday, in the opinion of United States Senator K. D. McKellar, who left Memphis Saturday afternoon for Washington.

"I am going to confer with Attorney-General Palmer Monday," Senator McKellar said Saturday, "and I expect I will have some news for Memphians Monday or Tuesday. The appointment will be hastened and the name of the man selected made public as soon as possible."

Griffin States Whisky Making Charges More Serious Than Other-Real Name of Victim Discovered.

Although police continued to search saturday for owners of the giant whisky still, owners of which are said to be the four men who are alleged to have criminally assaulted Mrs. J. Finley Brown, also known as Dorothy Loriene McQuillian, no arrests had been made nor trace, though names of the suspects are known to officers, had been found of the quartet.

Inspector of Detectives Griffin Saturday stated that the whisky making charges were more serious than others preferred against the four. He said assault and battery charges seemed likely if the men are apprehended. Mrs. Brown, however, Saturday, said she would prosecute on criminal assault charges. In a statement she declared that her attackers beat her and might have otherwise mistreated her while she was unconscious.

Mrs. Brown, whose real name developed after questioning Friday night by detectives. Saturday was in receipt of a letter from her husband in Little Rock. It came to police headquarters addressed to Dorothy Loriene McQuillan. This was her maiden name, Mrs. Brown declared.

According to Mrs. Brown's statement relative to the letter, her husband Friday sued for divorce. She has been married for four years, she declared. Several years ago she worked in a local telephone exchange, Mrs. Brown maintained.

"Al," "Tommy." "Bob" and "Mike" are the names Mrs. Brown gave as men in the auto used on the joyride on Thursday morning, when she was left on Macon road. "Al" is the mysterious ringleader of the gang believed to be extensively engaged in moonstining. He owned the car in which they rode, Mrs. Brown gald. "Bob" is declared to be a new arrival in Memphis from Chicago.

Officers Saturday were endeavoring to track these men in the bottoms of a new arrival in Memphis from Chicago.

Officers Saturday were endeavoring to track these men in the bottoms of the northesst part of the county after they were seen Friday afternoon by Detective Hewitt running from "Al's" farm on Tutwiler road. "Tommy" and "Mike" were said to have left the city some time Friday. Police discounted this story somewhat.

Katherine McNeal, said to live at the Victor hotel, was the second woman in the case. She came to headquarters Friday and was question, but left. She never was detained. Mrs. Brown declares she never saw this woman before the night of the ride. Other girls, said by Mrs. Brown to be twins, who work in a restaurant, were to have work in a restaurant, were to have joined the party, but did not show up. A second car was stolen for some bearings, Mrs. Brown claimed This car was left somewhere in the county, man selected made public as soon as possible."

Rumor Saturday Indicated that the selection lay between Marion G. Evans and John D. Martin, with the latter the favorite. Memphis lawyers, or at least a number of them, agree that the selection will be one of these two. Senator McKellar would give no inkling as to which would receive his indorsement.

The meeting of the City club Saturday was to be devoted exclusively to a reading of a report compiled by the special committee which has been investigating the gas situation. S. W. G. Meers heads the committee. While their findings have been kept under cover, it is understood that a complete study of the reasons for the gas company refusing to install meters in new homes has been made, and that suggestions for improving the service will gestions for improving the service be offered.

Suffragists Declare Transmission of Document to Washidity of Proclamation.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. Sept. 4.—A certified copy of the Tennessee house of representatives journal of last Tuesday, when an attempt was made to rescind ratification by that body of the federal suffrage amendment, was in the mails today en route to Secretary of State Colby, at Washington. Gov. Roberts announced he had transmitted the papers at the request of the house. Opponents of suffrage were hopeful that certification of the house journal to the state department might use them in their attempt to have the United States supreme court overthrow Tennessee's ratification of the suffrage amendment. They expressed confidence today that sending of the statement of the house's action Tuesday to Secretary Colby would result in this record becoming a part of the evidence that the courts are expected to review.

Suffragists, however, declared that transmission of the journal to Washington would not affect the validity of the suffrage proclamation issued by Secretary Colby. before an interpretation by that body of the fedwhen an attention was made to receive mails today or route to Secretary of State Colles. HEALTH CHIEFTAIN HINTS AT DRASTIC DAIRY MEASURES

Drastic action against Shelby county dairymen, including possible court procedure against them, was hinted at Saturday by Dr. J. J. Durrett, superintendent of the city health departington Will Not Affect Val- ment, unless instructions given the dairymen to rectify alleged insanitary conditions are complied with. Dr. Durrett was asked regarding a call issued by dairymen for a mass meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock to discuss "new regulations of the health department." This approaches the very crux of the whole argument, and the American people are entitled to know your mind. There can be no evasion. It was possible in the senate for you to oppose 1.151 quorum and roll calls but you can not do it either as candidate or as president. You must answer ves or no. BELFAST, Sept 4. (By the Associated Press.)—The proceedings of the meeting of the Ulster Unionist council yesterday were strictly secret. The decisions arrived at were provisional. There is no foundation for the rumor that the government contemplates recognizing the Ulster volunteers. It was pointed out that such recognition would be regarded by the Catholica throughout the country as tantamount to a declaration of civil war.

Dalrymple Seizures

CHICAGO. Sept. 4.—Maj. A. V. Dairymple now boasts the best "private stock" in Chicago. Figures released today by the prohibition authorities showed that whisky, wines and liqueurs valued on a basis of bootleg prices at approximately $4,000,000 have been seized in raids in and around Chicago since Jan. 17.

The stock consists of between 15,000 and 20,000 cases and 600 barrels of whisky, 500 barrels of wines and two carloads of liqueurs.
